– ListsQ: How do I get a users timezone off of page load? I'm trying to get the users timezone from the page load. I've tried Date.getInstance(), etc. but none of them seem to be getting the users timezone from the browser after the page has loaded. I'm using Android. Any ideas on how to get this data? Thanks A: The browser the user is using will always set the request's timezone to "UTC" unless it is specified. The browser won't change it to the device's timezone until the page is open.
