key trying to dump a mic made by lumi but i get this error. cant get the code to work. i get this error windows cannot load media dll file "media.dll". if you experience this issue, then we recommend you to check the software certificate pin and reset the computer. WTFMediaCopy.dll file download From what I can see these dll files are pre-installed when you buy a new version of CINEMA 4D. You can be sure that the media files are there. WTFMediaCopy.dll I dont know if I am correct but there is a special computer program that downloads the media files needed by Cinema 4D and it is not a special CINEMA 4D software. WTFMediaCopy.dll Description: This DLL provides a fast and easy way to access the media stored on a Windows PC, (e.g. on the CD/DVD, or in a local folder), and dump it into a Cinema 4D project or frame as part of the normal CINEMA 4D workflow. This can be used as a stand-alone utility for copying media stored on a PC, but it can also be used as part of the normal workflow to prepare materials for viewing on a PC (or other media device), or used to generate a DVD (or other media) with all of the media available on a PC. The ability to access media files stored on a PC through a simple GUI is a powerful tool to have when dealing with media files. For example, this tool is used to: Test the workflow of importing from a CD, DVD or any local folder with media files. Create templates for content that can be presented on a variety of media. Export content to be used in DVD menus and trailers. There is no reason to use this tool as a stand-alone unless you are converting from an old/legacy Cinema 4D project to the new engine, or need to copy files from a PC in which you have no access to the normal operating system. This tool may require Administrator level access in order to use. with the latest Cinema 4D 4.2 release the media copy dll has been removed. Now C4D works with all media types theres no need to copy anything over. Just the media files and youre ready to go. CINEMA 4D 82157476af
